PRESIDENT'S PEN

Having been a military spouse for 4 years, I am very lucky to have met so many wonderful people. Here at Wright-Patterson, I am often reminded what a unique and wonderful group of people we have in our spouses club get to surround ourselves with. We come together in different stages of life, but quickly find commonalities and share the desire to create and foster community. Having worked as a teacher for almost 10 years, (before I made my first PCS with my husband) I am often reminded of the community that is built each school year, much like we build in our Membership. We build this community with our Monthly meetings through the Programs offered, weekly in the Activity and Service groups that meet, and often daily in the friendships we forge. As I walked around the Welcome and Information Fair this year, I knew the success of the event came from the united strengths of those on our committee. The success of the WPOSC comes from those who are willing to share their strengths with the greater community and serve. As we continue this year, we still have many opportunities for those new and returning members to share their skills and strengths with the club.

While I know my time as President will be short in the history of the WPOSC, I hope to help find those willing to share their passions for the continued growth of the club so that we can continue into the next 80+ years! If you're ready to join me and share those strengths, please reach out! I'm excited to see what else unfolds this year!

Sincerely,
Desiree DeGarmo
24-25 WPOSC President

SPOTLIGHT

Wright-Patterson Mah Jongg

It is still commonly believed that Mah Jongg is an ancient Chinese game, but in fact, it was discovered relatively recently in China after the Tai Ping revolution in the late 1800s. It would be brought to the United States by Joseph P. Babcock, a young Standard Oil employee, who was assigned to a port city near Shanghai, named Soochow (Suzhou today). Babcock witnesses the game being played everywhere in the bustling city but quickly realized there was no recognized Chinese method of play. Babcock and other western entrepreneurs had a thought that the game could be exported to the States with written rules to make for better consistency, understanding, and western acceptance.

Babcock's Rules for Mah Jongg was copyrighted and published by 1920. Abercrombie and Fitch took on making and exporting game sets. At the height of the game's popularity they made more than 12,000 sets, and for a time, Mah Jongg related goods became the sixth largest export from China.

However, after a few years, enthusiasm for the game started to dwindle. Disagreement on new interpretations for Babcock's rules led to players starting to devise their own rules. In 1937 the National Mah Jongg League was formed for the purpose of addressing these disparities and to this day is the arbitrator of the American rules of Mah Jongg.

The game came to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base by way of Helene Morris. She first encountered the game in California when Mah Jongg was at the height of it's popularity. She first introduced the game in July of 1941 when her husband was assigned to the Air Service Command at Patterson Field, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base today.

She and a group of friends worked together to create a standardized set of rules that would not include jokers or gambling aspects not allowed on military installations. The interest for the game quickly grew and soon the only room big enough to hold the large group for play was the ballroom at the Officers' Club.

As transfers were made, members took the game to new installations and were constantly writing back to friends still at Wright-Patterson wanting "the sheet of instructions". Helene and her friend Sylvia Bauer sensed they could continue to standardize the game in order for military spouses to be able to go to any installation and have a group ready to welcome them.

By 1963 the official Wright-Patterson Mah Jongg Book was copyrighted and reached more than 2,000 in sales in just a couple of years. Tournaments were held as fundraisers for the hospital, Air Force Village, and Officers' Wives' Club (OWC) welfare fund.

Today Mah Jongg Book Sales continue to be a volunteer endeavor overseen by the Wright-Patterson Officers' Spouses' Club (WPOSC, formerly OWC). We have a very active group of players that meet weekly to continue the game and our Activity Lead for the game helps write the new version of the book every 5 to 7 years to keep the rules current.

This year, member Cathy Gagnon has stepped up to lead our Mah Jongg Activity Group and to oversee Mah Jongg Book Sales. If anyone is interested in learning more about the Wright-Patterson Mah Jongg Book or joining in on play, please contact Cathy at mahjongg@wrightpattersonosc.org.

This month we will be reading The Women by Kristin Hannah.

The Women is the story of one woman gone to war, but it shines a light on all women who put themselves in harm's way and whose sacrifice and commitment to their country has too often been forgotten. A novel about deep friendships and bold patriotism, The Women is a richly drawn story with a memorable heroine whose idealism and courage under fire will come to define an era.

We hope you will join us as we discuss this novel.

Wine Club

WRIGHT WALKERS

Robin Sowder

Welcome to our 24-25 club year. Wright Walkers (WW) will be enjoying the outdoors while generating great conversations, exploring new areas of the Miami Valley/WPAFB, and encouraging new friendships, and healthy habits with you and your family or furbabies.

The plan is to meet on the first and third Wednesday of each month at 10:30 am at various locations in Greene and Montgomery County. We will be open to suggested walking locations to be fair to those who live in the various communities that support WPAFB.

-You will be responsible for any drinks or snacks you may need. Wear comfortable clothes and shoes for walking. We will walk for about an hour or more, which will equal about 1.5 miles at a casual pace. There are lots of opportunities to visit and meet new people. I will carry a first aid kit.

-As the weather changes, either fog or snow, there may be a need to cancel our walk. I will try to do my best to email or text the group and post on Facebook if this becomes necessary.

Looking forward to seeing our regulars and many new faces.
